

universität wien

Dr. Ulrike Goldschmid-Grant for Research Work at the Tropical Field Station La Gamba , Costa Rica carried out by the Society for the promotion of the La Gamba Field Station (Verein zur Förderung der Tropenstation La Gamba).

Detailed information about the application can be found on our homepage:
<https://www.lagamba.at/en/study/grants/>

The Society for the promotion of the La Gamba Field Station offers a plethora of opportunities for field work, especially in the area of bio- and geoscience. In order to increase the availability of scientific opportunities for advanced students, the Society for the promotion of the La Gamba Field Station announces up to 2 scholarships for the year 2019.

Scientific research work in the context of Master, PhD and Postdoc studies (up to 7 years after PhD completion) is supported. The amount of financing per scholarship is 2.000 Euro per person; additional funding is available and dependent on the projected costs.

Please send your application via e-Mail to tropenstation.botanik@univie.ac.at and a hard copy to:

Daniel Schaber
Dept. für Botanik & Biodiversitätsforschung
Universität Wien - Rennweg 14 - 1030 Wien

Next application deadline: 30.10.2019